

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE ... AND WHY NOT?

WHO: A KING	WHAT: A CHAIN	WHEN: DAYBREAK	WHERE: AN ISLAND	EXPRESSION: "WHY NOT?"
-----------------------	-------------------------	--------------------------	----------------------------	----------------------------------

Use these five items in a story. Start with: It's hard to believe, but ...

TAKE THE NEXT STEP

For whom do you write? Describe your mental picture of your audience.

Find a picture—via an online image search, a magazine, or perhaps a photo you took—that depicts the mental image of your audience giving you a standing ovation. Place it in this book to help you stay clear and motivated about your commitment to writing.